From Long Island emerges a talented fresh face under the name of aku. Nicheing in the pop rap and hip hop genres, aku recently came out with "rose gold in paris town" which was an immediate success. An incredibly unique sound, "rose gold in paris town" was playlisted by many curators and quickly gained tens of thousands of views and streams across all platforms.

True to his positive nature, aku finds inspiration in supporting his audience and helping others conquer sorrow and pain through his art. The way he formulates a rhyme scheme expresses more than just the minimal amount of words said at the same time diversifying between multiple genres and melodic flows through either rapping or singing.

Some of aku's most special achievements include being an actor as well as becoming a model and making an appearance in Vogue.

He believes satire and humor in general to be powerful tools in shifting paradigms and in his art, aku shares his genuine satirical self with his audience, establishing a truthful connection.
